

After

George Coles Stebbins

Anonymous, 1891

♩=92

1. Af - ter the toil and trou - ble, There com - eth a day of rest;
2. Af - ter the night of dark - ness, The sha - dows all flee a - way;
3. Af - ter the hours of chast - ening, The spir - it made pure and bright;
4. Af - ter the pain and sick - ness, The tears are all wiped a - way;

Af - ter the wea - ry con - flict, Peace on the Sav - ior's breast; Af - ter the care and Af - ter the day of sad - ness, Hope sheds her bright - est ray; Af - ter the strife and Af - ter the earth's dark sha - dow, Clear in the light of Light; Af - ter the guid - ing Af - ter the flowers are ga - thered, No more of earth's de - cay; Af - ter the deep heart sor - row, The glory of light and love; Af - ter the wilder - ness jour - ney, The strug - gle, The vic - to - ry is won; Af - ter the work is o - ver, The coun - sel, Com - mun - ion full and sweet; Af - ter the will - ing ser - vice, All sor - row, An end of ev - ery strife; Af - ter the dai - ly cross - es, A Fa - ther's bright home a - bove.

Mas - ter's own word, "Well done."
laid at the Sav - ior's feet.
glo - ri - ous crown of life.

