The End of the Road

Lizzie De Armond, 1920

Elton Menno Roth

When I come to the end of the long, long road, The shadows will flee a-way, And I’ll stand in the glorious light of God, Where dwelleth eternity, When I come to the end of the road, To the land of eternity.

When I come to the end of the long, long road, The trials will all be past, I shall look in the face of my dearest Friend, Safe home in His heav’n at last.

Look-ing back o’er the years that were hard and drear, The hand of the Christ I’ll see; While my heart will go forth with a song of praise, Because of His love for me.

Day, When I come to the end, the end of the road, To the land of eternity, When I come to the end of life’s long road, The face of my Lord I’ll see.

When I come to the end of the long, long road, The shadows will flee a-way, And I’ll stand in the glorious light of God, Where dwelleth eternity, When I come to the end of the road, To the land of eternity.

Refrain

When I come to the end, the end of the road, To the land of eternity, When I come to the end of life’s long road, The face of my Lord I’ll see.
