1. He is not far from ev-ery one of us, His power and wis-dom shine from peak and plain.
2. He is not far from ev-ery one of us, Our bo - dies tem-ples are our souls that praise;
3. He is not far from ev-ery one of us, He near - er is than breath or feet or hands;

The vault-ed heav'ns out - stretch a star - lit fane, Where hearts, where praise-ful hearts may
De - clare His pre - sence all our var - ied ways, Where wan - dering, stri - ving, we may
He dear - er is than friend or home or lands, The spir - it's fount of joy, our
