

If Thou Shalt Confess

John Ralston Clements, 1916

Bentley DeForest Ackley

♩=115

1. O lost one in the wilds of sin, So long from God a - way; Be-
2. So ma - ny roads a - cross the marsh But lead to vales of night; This
3. How ma - ny paths at first seem fair, That lead to loss and pain! This

Refrain
- fore thee lies an o - pen path, Where thou canst walk to - day.
one, "the true and liv - ing way," Ends in the fade - less light. For if thou shalt con - fess the one yields com - fort all the way, The end e - ter - nal gain.

Lord, And in thine heart be - lieve; His Word is sure, it stands se - thine heart And in thine heart be - lieve

- cure, "Thou shalt be saved," "Thou shalt be saved."
se - cure "Thou shalt be saved,"