

Life's Railway

William Owen Jones, 1922

William Owen Jones

J=102

1. You are travel-ing on a rail-way, Wind-ing through this maze of life, Climb-ing
2. Curves will meet you as you jour-ney, You will meet with wrecks of time; You will
3. Wind and rain some days will hin-der, Skies will dark-en, sick-ness come; You will 4. You will cross the bridge of mer-cy And the ri-ver of de-light, You will up the hills of tri-al, In-to vales of sin and strife; But there's one who knows the cross the bridge of sad-ness, You will reach some heights sub-lime. Ne-ver fear, for Christ is want to tra-vel free-ly To a friend or heav'n-ly home; Put your trust in Christ the climb the hills su-per-nal, You shall gain the hills of light; Soon the home so free-ly jour-ney, He can sure-ly take you through; Je-sus knows the way to glo-ry, He will with you, And He knows the way so plain; Keep your eye on your dear Sav-ior, He will Sav-ior, Well He knows this line and rail; He will ne-ver leave you lone-ly For His giv-en Will be seen on "glo-ry's shore"; You have reached the heav'n-ly sta-tion, Ne'er to

rit. Refrain

safe-ly car-ry you. Je-sus, Sav-ior, bless-èd Keep-er, Guide us on to Heav'n aban-ish fear and pain. Je-sus, Sav-ior, bless-èd Keep-er, Guide us on to Heav'n alove will ne-ver fail. Je-sus, Sav-ior, bless-èd Keep-er, Guide us on to Heav'n a-leave for-ev-er - more.

- bove; Where the saints through-out the ag-es Will u-nite in songs of love.