

Make Thee Ready, as Best Thou Art Able

Sophronius, 629, trans. by George R. Woodward

Arranged by Charles Wood

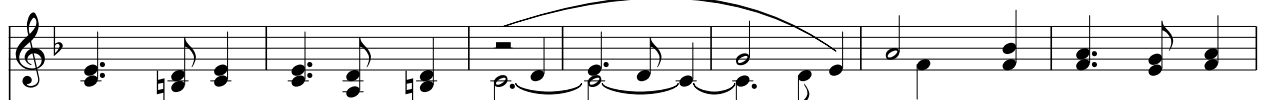

♩=115

1. Make thee rea - dy, as best thou art a - ble, Lit - tle Beth - le - hem, 2. Type and sha - dow of yore are now end - ed; Lo, the sub - stance is
 3. He is past through the vir - gin - al por - tal; The In - vi - si - ble
 4. Where - fore Ad - am and Ev - a, for - giv - en Their in - i - qui - ty gar - nish the bed, Tho' it be but a crib in a sta - ble, Where the come, as I ken; Truth In - car - nate to earth is de - scend - ed, God hath doth not de - cline To be found in the fa - shion of mor - tal, For to cry, "By the grace And good - will of our Lord are we shriv - en; Seen of

In - fant may pil - low His head, Where the In - fant may pitch - èd His tent a - mong men. God hath pitch - èd His make hu - man na - ture di - vine, For to make hu - man men, He doth ran - som our race; Seen of men, He doth pil - low His head.

 tent a - mong men.
 na - ture di - vine.
 ran - som our race."

