

Mine Eyes Have Seen the Dawning

Rhys H. Thomas, 1912

Carey Bonner, 1905

♩=110

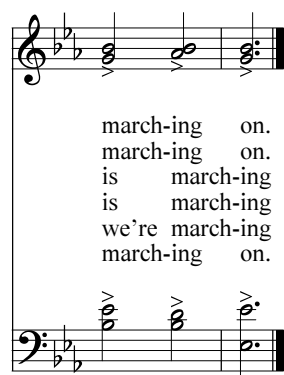

1. Mine eyes have seen the dawn-ing Of a com - ing glor - ious morn, Mine
 2. I can hear the stead-y tramp-ing Of ten thou - sand march-ing feet, True
 3. Let the sobs of help-less child-ren Crushed by crimes the law al - lows, Let 4. The cries of all earth's lit - tle ones Have reached the great white throne, And
 5. Though the chains of sin be hea - vy, And they bind our na - tive land, Though 6. No mul - ti - tude is might-y That has made a league with sin, Nor ears have heard the an - gels' song, They sang when Christ was born; I have men and wo - men mov-ing on Through high - way, lane and street; They will the blight-ed lives of wo - men, Lost through man - hood's brok - en vows, Let the King Him - self has heark-ened, He has made their griefs His own; He the curse be on the na - tions, Yet our God has raised His hand; He wealth nor wis - dom can de - fend, When e - vil rules with - in, For the caught the word of prom-ise Un - to wear-y hearts and worn, That God is ne - ver pause nor fal - ter Till the tri - umph is com - plete, With God they're the sighs of hope - less sor - row Ev - ery free man's heart a - rouse, Since God is come to help the help - less, He will make His judg - ments known, His strength is call - ing us to fol - low, We ad - vance at His com - mand; With Him meek shall o - ver - come them, And the right the day must win, Since God is march-ing on.

 march-ing on.
 is march-ing
 is march-ing
 we're march-ing
 march-ing on.