

Someone Is Praying for You

Cora Merrill Adams, 1912

Isaac Hickman Meredith

♩=130

1. Pil-grims of earth on your jour - ney thro' life, Joy - ous in free-dom, or
 2. Is it a fa - ther, his form bowed with care? Bend-ing 'neath bur-dens that
 3. Is it a mo - ther, with sil - ver - y hair? Steps slow and fee - ble, the
 4. Is it a sis - ter, a bro - ther, or friend? Shar - ing life's bur-dens and
 5. Je - sus is wait - ing to wel - come you home, Ten - der - ly call - ing tho'

wea - ry with strife, Tid - ings we bring you, sweet mes - sage so true:
 some - one should share, Work - ing and hop - ing with heart ev - er true, form once so fair, Keep - ing love's lamp trimmed and burn - ing so true, true to the end, Thro' storm and sun - shine with skies dark or blue, far you may roam; Come to the Sav - ior so lov - ing and true,

Refrain

Some-one who loves you is pray-ing for you.
 Pa - tient - ly trust - ing, and pray-ing for you.
 Wait - ing for Hea - ven, and pray-ing for you. Pray-ing for you, pray-ing for you,
 Some-one who loves you is pray-ing for you.
 Still there is mer - cy and par - don for you.

Plead-ing with Hea-ven that you may be true; Wher - e'er you may go, and what - e'er you may do, ritard.

Some-one who loves you is pray-ing for you.