

When the Goodbyes of Earth Are All Spoken

W. E. Catlin, 1898

W. E. Catlin

♩ = 85

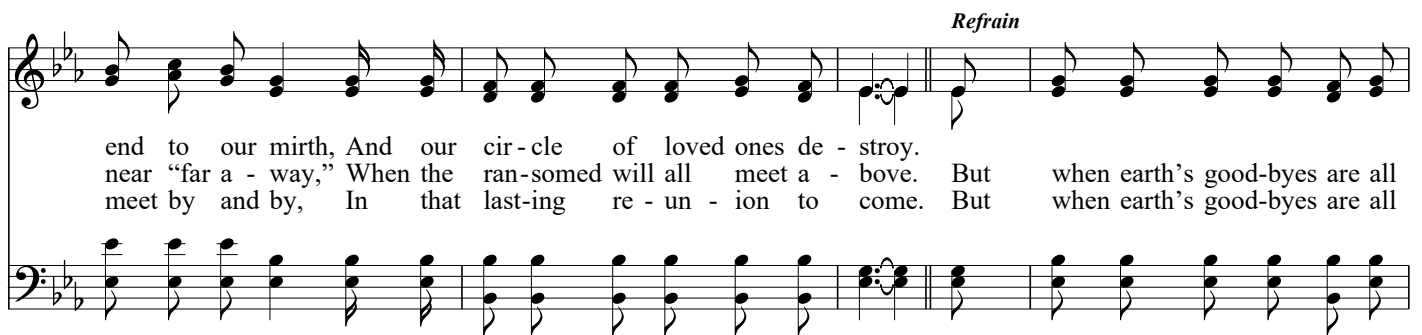

1. When our loved ones we greet, In the homes where we meet, And a 2. Like the last rays of light, All our joy takes its flight, When with
3. To the friend - less on earth Give some joy in their dearth, Bid them fore - taste of Hea - ven en - joy, Then the good - byes of earth Put an good - byes our loved ones re - move; But how cheer - ing that day In the share in the plea - sures of home, Till they've trea - sures on high, Where we'll

Refrain

end to our mirth, And our cir - cle of loved ones de - stroy. near "far a - way," When the ran - somed will all meet a - bove. But when earth's good - byes are all meet by and by, In that last - ing re - un - ion to come. But when earth's good - byes are all spo - ken, And we're ga - thered a - round the white throne, Our spo - ken, all spo - ken, And we're ga - thered a - round the white throne, God's throne, Our cir - cle will then be un - bro - ken, For there no good - byes are known.

cir - cle will then be un - bro - ken, un - broken,