Keep a Light in the Window

M. A. Maitland, 1875
William B. Evans, 1894

Keep a light in the window burning, Faint tho’ its glimmering be;
It may lighten some homeless wanderer, Tossing on life’s dark sea. It may on you the Lord of glory Making His face to shine. Hoping hopeful souls are waiting, For the sound of the Bridegroom’s voice. Till the lighten some homeless wanderer, Tossing on life’s dark sea. It may that some long lost brother, Way laid in the path of sin; May whisper words of comfort, And hope to the sinking heart; Of the

each of His glorious presence, Extinguished the feeble ray; Like the see its welcome glimmer, And joyfully enter in. And morn-ing star it shall vanish,

In the light of the perfect day.
