

We Are Well Able

Kittie Louise Suffield, 1922

Kittie Louise Suffield

♩=105

1. 'Twas the Lord of hosts that led us out of E - gypt's sand; And He
2. When the spies brought back the mes-sage, this is what they said: "A - gainst
3. When we crossed the riv - er Jor - dan, in the land we found: Wine and 4. There's no thirst - ing for old E - gypt, since we're in this way, And we led us through the Red Sea by His might - y hand, Nev - er gi - ants and walled ci - ties, we can - not be led"; But a oil and milk and hon - ey, rich - est fruits a - bound; Spark - ling care not what the cri - tics or the ten spies say; For the halt - ing in the wil - der - ness, but His com - mand Gave as - Ca - leb and a Josh - ua said, "They'll be as bread"; We are fount - ains, and the show - ers come up - on the ground; We are land a - bounds in plen - ty, and we're here to stay, Won't you

- sur - ance we were a - ble to pos - sess the land. a - ble to go up, pos - sess the land a - head. We are a - ble to go up and take the a - ble, Hal - le - lu - jah! Let God's praise re - sound.
come and join us, bro - ther, en - ter in to - day?

count-ry, And pos - sess the land from Jor - dan to the sea; And, though And pos - sess the land from Jor - dan to the sea;

gi-ants tall be there our way to hin-der, God will sure-ly give the vic-to - ry.