We’ll Be There

Palmer Hartsough, 1900

James Henry Fillmore, Sr.

1. When the Lord in glory cometh with His hosts in bright array, And we waken at His summons in that new and glad-some light, O the wonder, O the rapture as we greet the numbered thousands rise, As His beauty and His glory they behold. We’ll be there, we’ll be there, On the resurrection morning we’ll be there; We’ll be

2. We shall see our blessed Savior and shall know Him in the skies As He comes to take His children thru the gates of shining gold; We shall hear the shouts of joy that from un-see the palms of victory that the saints in gladness bring; We shall hear the mighty chorus to the numberless righteous gathering for their great reward, We shall there, we’ll be there, On the resurrection morning we’ll be there; We’ll be

3. We shall see the countless righteous gathering for their great reward, We shall we’ll be there, we’ll be there, On the resurrection morning we’ll be there; We’ll be numberless thousands rise, As in robes of white they stand before their king.

Refrain

We’ll be there, we’ll be there, On the resurrection morning we’ll be there; We’ll be
